9. In our examination of the question of the repeal of the Press Act, we also considered the further question as to which, if any, of its provisions should be retained by incorporation in other laws. Various suggestions have been placed before us in this connection, some of greater and some of minor importance. Perhaps the most important of these is the question whether the dissemination of disaffection against Indian Princes through the Press of British India should be penalized in any way. We have been handicapped in our examination of this question by the very inadequate representation of the views of the Princes, many of whom were unwilling to allow their opinions to be placed before the Committee. We have however had the advantage of seeing some minutes submitted by them and of examining Sir John Wood, the Secretary of the Political Department. It has been argued that the Government of India is under an obligation to protect Indian Princes from such attacks, that the Press Act alone affords them such protection and that if it is repealed it is unfair, having regard to the constitutional position of the Government of India, vis-a-vis the Indian States, that the Press in British India should be allowed to foment disaffection against the ruler of an Indian State. On the other hand, various witnesses have protested in the strongest terms against any such protection being afforded to the Princes. It is alleged that the effect of any such provision in the law would be to stifle all legitimate criticism, and deprive the subjects of such States of any opportunity of ventilating their grievances and protesting against maladministration or oppression. We understand that before the Press Act became law, it was not found necessary to protect Indian Princes from such attacks, and we note that the Act, so far as the evidence before us shows, has only been used on three occasions for this purpose; we do not, in the circumstances, think that we should be justified in recommending on general grounds any enactment in the Penal Code or elsewhere for the purpose of affording such protection in the absence of evidence to prove the practical necessity for such provision of the law. Our colleague Mr. Asad Ali desires to express no opinion on this question.

10. We have also considered the question of vesting Courts of Justice with power to confiscate a Press, if the keeper is convicted for the second time of disseminating sedition. Although section 517 of the Criminal Procedure Code affords some faint authority for the enactment of such a provision in the law, we feel that it would operate inequitably, particularly in the case of large and valuable presses used not only for the printing of a particular paper but also for other miscellaneous work. In the case of smaller presses the forfeiture of the press would probably not be an effective remedy, and on a careful consideration of the facts we doubt the necessity for inserting any such provision in the law.

11. There is indeed only one provision of the Act which we think should be retained; namely, the power to seize and confiscate newspapers, books or other documents which offend against the provisions of section 124-A of the Penal Code. If this power is retained the ancillary power of preventing the importation into British India, or transmission through the post of such documents, on the lines now provided for in sections 13, 14 and 15 of the Indian Press Act is a necessary corollary if the law is to be effective. The confiscation of openly seditious documents in no way, we believe, constitutes an interference with the reasonable liberty of the Press, and the openly seditious character of some of the documents which are now circulated in India has convinced us of the necessity of retaining this power as a regular provision of the substantive law. The exact method by which this should be effected is we think a matter for the expert advisers of the Government of India to decide. We would however also provide for redress in cases in which the owner of a press or any person interested in the production of any such document or in the possession of any particular copy of the document considers himself aggrieved by allowing such persons to apply to the High Court and challenge the seizure and confiscation of the document. We would also provide that when such an application is made the onus of proving the seditious character of the document should be on the Government. We think that the powers conferred by sections 13 to 15 of the Press Act might be conveniently incorporated in the Sea Customs Act and the Post Office Act so that the Customs and Postal Officers should be empowered to seize seditious literature within the meaning of section 124-A of the Indian Penal Code subject to review on the part of the Government, and to challenge by any person interested, in the courts. We recommend that in this case and in the case of seditious leaflets seized under the conditions referred to in the earlier portions of this paragraph, the orders of the Government should be liable to be contested in the High Court.

12. It follows almost of necessity from what we have said above that we recommend the total repeal of the Newspapers (Incitements to Offences) Act, 1908. We may observe that this Act has not been used for the last ten years.

13. As to the Press and Registration of Books Act, we recommend that this Act should be retained with the following modifications:

(1) that no person should be registered as a publisher or printer unless he is a major as defined by the Indian Majority Act;

(2) that in the case of all newspapers, the name of the responsible editor should be clearly printed on the front sheet of the paper and that an editor should be subject to the same criminal and civil liability in respect of anything contained in the paper as the publisher and printer;

(3) that the term of imprisonment prescribed in sections 12, 13, 14 and 15 should be reduced to six months;

(4) that the provisions of section 16 of the Press Act should be reproduced in this Act.

We have also considered certain other matters of detail which are of a technical nature. We think they should be left to the expert department to deal with.

14. We append a summary of our conclusions:—

(1) The Press Act should be repealed.

(2) The Newspapers (Incitements to Offences) Act should be repealed.

(3) The Press and Registration of Books Act, the Sea Customs Act and the Post Office Act should be amended where necessary to meet the conclusions noted below:—

(a) The name of the editor should be inscribed on every issue of a newspaper, and the editor should be subject to the same liabilities as the printer and the publisher as regards criminal and civil responsibility.

(b) Any person registering under the Press and Registration of Books Act should be a major as defined by the Indian Majority Act.

(c) Local Governments should retain the power of confiscating openly seditious leaflets, subject to the owner of the press or any other person aggrieved being able to protest before a Court and challenge the seizure of any such document in which case the local Government ordering confiscation should be called upon to prove the seditious character of the document.

(d) The powers conferred by sections 13 to 15 of the Press Act should be retained, Customs and Postal Officers being empowered to seize seditious literature within the meaning of section 124-A, Indian Penal Code, subject to review on the part of the local Government and challenge by any persons interested in the proper courts.

(e) Any person challenging the orders of the Government should do so in the local High Court.

(f) The term of imprisonment prescribed in sections 12, 13, 14 and 15 of the Press and Registration of Books Act should be reduced to six months.

(g) The provisions of section 16 of the Press Act should be reproduced in the Press and Registration of Books Act.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Forecast of the Summer Til crop of Bengal, 1921-22.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1918-19, the area under til in Bengal has represented some 5·0 per cent. of the total area under til in British India.)

Character of the season.—At the outset, the weather was generally favourable for the preparatory operations. In March, however, wet weather somewhat interfered with the sowings and germination of the crop. The subsequent prolonged drought extending up to May, with slight interruptions during the latter part of April, helped the growth for a while, but considerably affected the outturn, particularly in the western districts. The sudden and early rise of the rivers during the month of June also caused damage in the low-lying tracts of East and North Bengal districts. On the whole the season has not been favourable for the crop this year.

Acreage.—The total area sown this year with the crop is reported to be 162,700 acres as against 155,300 acres last year.

Outturn.—From the estimates furnished by the District Officers the average outturn of the crop for the province works out at 73 per cent. of the normal this year, against 77 per cent. last year. Taking the normal yield at $6\frac{1}{8}$ maunds per acre, the gross outturn for the province is estimated at 26,700 tons this year, against 26,900 tons last year, or a decrease of 200 tons only.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE LIGHT RAILWAYS CONCILIATION.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 25TH JULY 1921.

RESOLUTION—No. 2780Com.

THE report of the Conciliation Board which was constituted to deal with the recent strikes on the Light Railways under the management of Messrs. Martin & Co. is published for general information. The Conciliation Board is the first to be constituted under the scheme formulated by the Committee on Industrial Unrest for dealing with disputes in public utility services, and it is most gratifying to find that they have not merely settled the various points in dispute between the Company and its employés, but have also been able to secure their consent to the establishment of a Joint Works Committee, which should, under proper guidance, greatly assist the settlement of any differences that may arise hereafter, and so avoid the necessity of recourse to strikes with all the public inconvenience and loss which they cause. Much of the success of the Conciliation Board was due to the reasonable and temperate attitude of the parties when brought face to face, and the whole case illustrates in a striking manner the value of well designed measures for securing the frank discussion of industrial disputes by the parties concerned and the suitability of the concrete proposals made by the Committee on Industrial Unrest for this purpose. The thanks of the public and of the Government are due to Mr. Rhodes and his colleagues on the Conciliation Board for their disinterested public services, and the Governor in Council congratulates them on the successful result of their labours.

By order of the Governor in Council,

A. MARR,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT

In accordance with the request of Messrs. Martin & Co., and of the representatives of their employees on the light railways under the management of the firm, Government appointed a special Conciliation Board to enquire into the points enumerated below.

2. The staff of the Howrah-Amta, Howrah-Sheakhala and Baraset-Basirhat Light Railways struck work at 5 P.M. on the 15th June, and the Loco. Department of the Arrah-Sassaram Light Railway on the 18th June. The numbers of strikers were 645, 190, 410 and 50, respectively. Work on the Baraset-Basirhat line was resumed unconditionally, partly on the 22nd June and fully on the 25th June. On the Arrah-Sassaram Railway work was resumed partly on the 27th June and fully on the following day. Work on the two Howrah lines was resumed on the afternoon of the 2nd July on the promise of the appointment of this Conciliation Board. Our report, unless otherwise stated, deals only with the two Howrah lines, as mutually agreed upon before us by both parties.

3. By the courtesy of the District Magistrate of Howrah, three meetings were held in his room for the convenience of witnesses, and three meetings were held in Calcutta.

4. The managing agents were represented by Mr. G. C. Das, Chief Engineer, and Mr. W. G. L. Gilbert, Traffic Superintendent, and the employees by Mr. E. Jones.

5. Taking the points of reference seriatim—

ITEM (A).—The alleged inequitable effect of a recent rule regarding the calculation of overtime.—This item referred to—

(1) The alleged insufficiency of khoraki paid to the members of the locomotive staff when halting during the night at out-stations.—The khoraki hitherto paid was as. 2 per night for every Rs. 12-8 of the monthly pay. It was mutually agreed before us that a flat rate of as. 8 per night's halt should be substituted ;

(2) Lack of accommodation for these men at out-stations.—The managing agents explained that there were four stations concerned, and that accommodation already existed at one of them They promised to provide permanent shelter at the three others (Amta, Sheakhala and Champadanga).; and

(3) Shunting operations.—The managing agents undertook to draw the attention of all concerned to the rules regarding the issue of shunting certificates on the evidence of which overtime is calculated, and to enforce compliance therewith. The representative of the employees expressed himself satisfied with this undertaking. There is to be no change in the existing rules.

6. ITEM (B).—The alleged insufficiency of the supply of uniforms.—The representative of the employees withdrew this item on the statement of the Loco. Superintendent, who was present throughout the enquiry, to the effect that on the day before the strike began, he had acceded to the request for one cold weather and two hot weather uniforms per annum.

7. ITEM (C).—The alleged hardship caused by fines imposed for slow running said to be due to the use of bad coal.—It was admitted that the coal obtainable is not of the best quality, but the managing agents stated that any fines that had been imposed for slow timing had been for faults of the drivers and not for bad coal. The Loco. Superintendent undertook personally to investigate all cases that came up for disciplinary action, where any claim was made that late running was due to bad coal. The managing agents also readily accepted our suggestion that all fines realised should be reserved for the benefit of the men. On these assurances the complaint was withdrawn.

8. ITEM (D).—The demand for extension to the Engineering Department of the full increase of 45 per cent. granted to other departments in 1920.—The misunderstanding here had arisen owing to a circular issued by the managing agents granting the men of all departments an increment of 45 per cent. with effect from the 1st October 1920, in excess of the pay which had been drawn previous to the 1st April 1919. It appeared that in framing this circular the managing agents had overlooked the fact that a short time before the issue of this circular, the Chief Engineer, in exercise of general discretionary powers, had raised the pay of his staff on the basis of individual merit. In some cases these advances were above 45 per cent., and in others below. On the issue of the circular, the Traffic and Loco. departments granted increases of 45 per cent. as promised, and added thereto any increments given in exceptional cases to individuals subsequent to the 1st April 1919; but no further action was taken by the Engineering Department. This lack of co-ordination between the departments, and the fact that some of the men in the Engineering Department were not receiving the increments promised by the circular, naturally caused dissatisfaction in this department. It was mutually agreed before us—

(1) that no man should receive less than the pay to which the Chief Engineer had raised him before the issue of the circular;

(2) that no man should receive less, as from the 1st October 1920, than a pay 45 per cent. in excess of the pay he was drawing on the 1st April 1919; and

(3) that those who were getting house allowance or house accommodation on the 1st April 1919 should, other circumstances being equal, continue to enjoy the same advantages in addition to the pay as determined above.

9. ITEM (E).—Alleged insufficiency of the house rent allowances.—Through an oversight the house allowance, which is not less than 10 per cent. of the pay of those entitled to receive it, was not actually raised at the time the 45 per cent. increment was granted. Consequently men newly appointed at the higher rate were receiving a larger house allowance than the older employees. The managing agents informed us that orders had already been issued to rectify the oversight, and the representative of the men declared himself quite satisfied.

10. ITEM (F).—Alleged deliberate transfers of the officers of the Railway Workmen's Association, and the dismissal of one man.—We investigated this charge in detail and examined a number of witnesses. We are of opinion that no transfers have been recently made with the object of handicapping the work of the Railway Workmen's Association and are satisfied that, in all cases of transfer brought to our notice, the managing agents have acted in the best interests of the men themselves, irrespective of their membership, or otherwise, of the Association. In regard to the dismissal of one man in the Engineering Department the coincidence of certain events was unfortunate, and the facts were thoroughly explored by us, the man in question having the opportunity of stating his case. We have come to the conclusion that the representative of the men did right in taking up this case, but on investigation we feel that we cannot ask the managing agents to reinstate the man, whose dismissal was primarily due to other causes.

Under this heading we also investigated, at the request of the employees and with the consent of the managing agents, matters affecting the strike on the Arrah-Sassaram Railway. It is not contested that this strike was a sympathetic one and was confined to the locomotive staff. The Loco. Superintendent made arrangements to run trains and engaged a number of new drivers and firemen for this purpose, the strikers being ordered to vacate their quarters with the exception of one man whose wife was ill; and they did so peaceably. Of the total staff of about 48, between 22 and 25 men have been replaced by new men. The managing agents stated that they were not prepared to dismiss the new men they had taken on. It was mutually agreed before us that the managing agents should pay the strikers on the Arrah-Sassaram line their provident fund subscriptions up to the date of their stopping work, together with interest due thereon, but not including any bonuses which would have been paid under normal circumstances. The managing agents stated their willingness to re-employ the dismissed men at their previous rates of pay as opportunity offered. The Loco. Superintendent impressed us with his evident desire to do all he could to find these men work either on one of these lines or elsewhere, and to assist all without discrimination.

11. ITEM G.—Demand for improved terms of service for lady ticket collectors.—We do not consider the present pay inadequate, and the representative of the employees consented to withdraw his demand on the managing agents offering to give special consideration to the cases of the two persons affected.

12. ITEM H.—Demand for treatment of all the employees in the workshops as permanent hands.—It was mutually agreed before us that all employees in the workshops should be given the status of permanent hands after three years' approved temporary service.

13. ITEM I.—The justification for the recent strikes and the conduct of the strikers and proposals for the improvement of the relations between the Company and its employees in the future.—The first portion of this reference requires us to report upon a matter with which we shall deal as lightly as is consistent with the obligations we have undertaken.

In view of the fact that much more important points of difference were settled amicably without a strike so recently as September last, we are compelled to the conclusion that the differences enumerated above were not such as should have led to a stoppage of work on the lines. This stoppage caused considerable inconvenience and loss to the public, especially to that section which uses the line daily for transport to business and which is feeling severely the present high cost of living. At a time when rents in Calcutta are high and the need for better transport facilities is attracting much public attention, it is most unfortunate that development of suburban areas should be jeopardised by the feeling of insecurity which such strikes engender in the public mind.

Whilst several of the grievances and alleged grievances mentioned above loomed large in the eyes of the employees, they were hardly sufficient to justify the line of action adopted by the men so soon after the amicable settlement of September last. Had a Joint Works Committee existed, these grievances might have been remedied or dissipated before they had assumed large proportions. We consider that no strike would have occurred if these points of difference had been placed before the management in the first instance in a less forceful manner, and we also consider that even so, it was still within the power of the management to have averted a strike by the adoption of a more conciliatory attitude.

The grievances, real and imaginary, to which the employees have attached most importance are those relative to the Engineering Department, where there appears to be some lack of that confidence and good will which ordinarily seem to have characterised the relationship between the Traffic and Loco. employees and the management. This is a matter to which we think the attention of the managing agents may usefully be directed, as we regard it as a contributory factor in bringing about the recent deadlock.

The strike throughout was marked by a freedom from serious disorder which compares favourably with another recent strike in the Howrah district and reflects great credit both on the men and their organization and also on the managing agents, who refrained from provocative action.

Though falling naturally under this heading, the question of strike pay, provident fund bonus and gratuities for continuous service, if any, on the local lines have not been specifically raised in the terms of reference. We cannot, in the light of the opinion we have expressed above, say that strike pay can be rightly claimed. We consider, however, that the employees should not be penalised in this particular strike on the Howrah-Amta and Howrah-Sheakhala lines in regard to provident fund bonus and gratuities.

We have given special consideration to the desire expressed in the terms of reference for proposals leading to an improvement in the relations between the managing agents and their employees in the future, as we hold the view that our duties as a Conciliation Board must be directed as much to the avoidance of future trouble as to the removal of present difficulties. During the course of the enquiry we have realised more and more the important function which a Joint Works Committee might perform in removing misunderstandings between the managing agents and their employees and in bringing both into a closer and more co-operative relationship. Not only has the report of the Committee on Industrial Unrest given us a valuable lead, but we have also had the advantage of consulting the representatives of the managing agents and of the men. It is satisfactory that both sides have been able to agree as to the general lines on which a Joint Works Committee could usefully be established and that these lines are somewhat in advance of those recommended by the Committee on Industrial Unrest. The proposals are as follows :—

(1) A Joint Works Committee shall be formed for the Howrah-Amta and Howrah-Sheakhala lines, to which the former shall elect 6 and the latter 3 representatives.

(2) The workshop staff at Bankra will have a separate committee of its own.

(3) The Traffic, Engineering and Loco. departments will form separate constituencies and each elect three members to the committee, two being elected by the Howrah-Amta and one by the Howrah-Sheakhala lines.

(4) A returning officer will be appointed by the managing agents to superintend the election, which shall be on a democratic franchise and by ballot.

(5) The president of the committee shall be the senior partner of Messrs. Martin & Co., and for each meeting of the committee the firm shall nominate a chairman to preside in the absence of the president. The elected members of the committee shall elect one of their number and the managing agents shall nominate another to be vice-chairmen. The secretary shall be appointed by the managing agents after hearing the views of the committee. The heads of the three departments shall also be members of the committee, and the managing agents may nominate ordinarily not more than two members of the staff to attend any meeting at which their presence might be desirable owing to the nature of the questions on the agenda.

(6) Vacancies occurring during the year shall be filled up by the committee, which would ordinarily appoint the leading unsuccessful candidate at the last election in the same constituency.

(7) Meetings shall ordinarily be held every two months unless more frequent meetings are found necessary.

(8) The first committee will be elected as soon as possible, to hold office until March 1922. Thereafter the committee will be elected annually.

(9) Each department will have its own sub-committee, presided over by the head of the department and consisting of the three elected representatives. No suggestions emanating from these sub-committees shall be put up to the managing agents without being first considered and reported upon by the Joint Works Committee.

An entirely separate Joint Works Committee consisting also of nine members will be formed on the Baraset-Basirhat Railway on similar lines. We should have preferred one joint committee covering the three local lines, so as to broaden the outlook of the members and co-ordinate the conditions of service. The managing agents, however, preferred to have a separate committee, but have expressed their willingness to call together, if practicable, representatives from each committee for the discussion of matters of general interest to both systems.

Like the recent Committee on Industrial Unrest, we fully recognise the difficulties surrounding such committees. We consider that their success or failure will be largely dependent on the attitude adopted by the management, and fully believe that Messrs. Martin & Co. have amongst their officers who appeared before us men who have the necessary qualifications for rendering this new and important experiment a success.

Both the managing agents and the representative of the employees have subscribed to the principle that no recourse should be had in future to outside intervention or to a strike until the causes of difference have been submitted for discussion by either side to the Joint Works Committee.

14. In conclusion we have much pleasure in recording our appreciation of the assistance we have received during our deliberations from Mr. Gilbert, representing the managing agents, and Mr. Jones, representing the employees: their very frank but always good-tempered presentation of their respective cases has rendered our task an easy and pleasant one. Their co-operation in the constructive part of our labours has been invaluable and augurs well for a better understanding in future. Mr. Gilbert's offer at the close of the proceedings to collect the subscriptions of the members of the Railway Workmen's Association by deduction in pay sheets, if found feasible, and subject to the written consent of each individual, proves that the managing agents are prepared to recognise and welcome the principles of trade unionism amongst their employees.

2. Temporary Sub-Assistant Surgeons will in future draw the same pay as probationers, viz., Rs. 60 per mensem. Officers at present in service will be permitted to count the whole of their service towards the new time-scale, and the various allowances at present drawn by them in addition to their grade pay will continue to be drawn by them in addition to the new scale of pay.

3. These orders will have effect from the 1st December 1921. The existing budget provision does not permit of the introduction of the new scale from an earlier date.

4. Contributions are at present realised from local bodies for the services of Sub-Assistant Surgeons lent to them at the rate of Rs. 76 per mensem in the case of local fund dispensaries to which Sub-Assistant Surgeons were lent before 1st August 1913, and at the rate of Rs. 69-8 per mensem in other cases. The question of revising these rates in consequence of the increase of pay now sanctioned will be considered separately.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR JUNE 1921.

I. Character of the season.—During the month under review rainfall was general throughout the province. The fall was below the average everywhere except in Jessore and Tippera where it was in excess of the normal. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—The preparatory tillage for winter paddy and its transplantation proceeded under favourable weather conditions in East and North Bengal, though its progress was somewhat retarded in western districts for want of sufficient rainfall. The cutting of jute and reaping of autumn paddy commenced in parts of East and North Bengal. Weeding of jute and autumn paddy was completed in the western districts. Winter paddy seedlings were being reared.

III. State of standing crops.—The condition of sugarcane, autumn paddy and other standing crops was reported to be fair on the whole. More rain, however, was needed in the western districts to improve their prospects.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of autumn paddy were reported to be favourable in East and North Bengal and a satisfactory outturn is anticipated.

V. Damage to standing crops.—The rise of the rivers caused some damage to the standing crops in certain lowlying tracts of North and East Bengal.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of livestock was, on the whole, fair. Sporadic cases of cattle-disease, however, were reported from thirteen districts.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Scarcity of water was felt in parts of Burdwan Division during the first-half of the month, but this difficulty was removed by the subsequent rainfall.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second-half of the month the price of common rice of the cheapest quality fell in eleven districts, rose in five and remained stationary in the rest of the province. The price varied from 5 seers 4 chitaks per rupee at Darjeeling to 7 seers 12 chitaks at Jessore.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of the agricultural population was fair.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Minister in charge : The Hon'ble Sir S. N. Banarji, Kt.

No. 3362L.S.-G.—The 26th July 1921.—In pursuance of section 49, sub-section (1) of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911 (Bengal Act V of 1911), it is hereby notified for general information that in exercise of the power conferred by section 48 of that Act the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Local Self-Government) are pleased to sanction the Street Scheme known as Scheme No. XVI (Diamond Harbour Road Widening—Kidderpore Bridge to Sterndale Road) which has been submitted to them by the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta under section 47 of the said Act.

2. A description of the scheme is given below :—

The scheme provides for the diversion of the northern end of the Diamond Harbour Road and the widening of the road as far as Sterndale Road : Garden Reach Circular Road within the area of the scheme is also widened by setting back the southern side. The scheme also provides for the construction of subsidiary roads between the Diamond Harbour Road and Garden Reach Circular Road. The scheme provides for the acquisition of the land shewn within the blue verge on the plan of the scheme and described in the accompanying list. The land not required for roads will be relaid out in building plots. If any plot is formed out of land in one ownership the owner will have the option of exempting it from acquisition under section 78. It is also the intention of the Board to arrange that where a plot is formed principally out of land in one ownership such owner shall have the opportunity of acquiring or retaining the new plot : where a masonry dwelling house is demolished the owner will be given the opportunity of retaining a building site in the immediate neighbourhood.

It is proposed in the first place to break up the existing road surface take up all the existing kerbing and guttering, small water mains, gas mains,, sewers, street gullies, ground hydrants, stand-posts and sewer connections, etc., which cannot be utilized in their existing positions and relay the area with new water pipes, stone kerbing and guttering, etc., etc.

The Diamond Harbour Road and Circular Garden Reach Road will be 84 feet wide with 54 feet roadway and 15 feet footpath on each side. The new 84 feet and 40 feet roads will be provided with 54 feet and 24 feet roadway and 15 feet and 8 feet footpath on each side respectively. The 24 feet and 20 feet roads will have 18 feet roadway and 6 feet and 2 feet footpath on one side only.

It is proposed to construct the Diamond Harbour Road, the Circular Garden Reach Road and the new 84 feet road with 2 inches asphaltum on 9 inches lime concrete foundation. The other 40 feet and 24 feet, 20 feet and 12 feet roads will be of ordinary brick macadam, 10 inches thick, on single brick soling. The footpaths of Diamond Harbour Road, the Circular Garden Reach Road and the new 84 feet road will be fully paved with 2 inches thick stone slabs or Indian patent stone bedded on lime concrete foundation. The footpaths of other 40 feet, 24 feet and 20 feet roads will also be of brick khoa.

To avoid long leadings for house connections one 4 inches main for filtered and one 6 inches main for unfiltered water supply have been provided on each side of the footpath of the Diamond Harbour Road, the Circular Garden Reach Road and the new 84 feet road. In the 40 feet, 24 feet, 20 feet and 12 feet roads one 4 inches main for filtered and one 6 inches main for unfiltered water supply have been provided in the roadway. The required number of stand-posts, ground hydrants, sluice valves and junctions, etc., have also been provided, utilizing the old ones as far as possible.

The existing brick sewers in Circular Garden Reach Road and Komedan Bagan Road and the existing pipe sewers in Diamond Harbour Road which do not come under the footpath have not been disturbed, but all the sewer connections between the existing street gullies and properties have been taken up and relaid with new pipe connections. All the existing street gullies, manholes, master traps, yard gullies will be broken up and reconstructed in their new positions. New s. w. pipe sewers have been provided in the 84 feet, 40 feet, 24 feet, 20 feet and 12 feet roads.

For the proper lighting of the roads provision has been made for relaying the mains that will be recovered from the existing roads. The required number of new lamps with C. I. columns, etc., have also been provided in the estimate, utilising the old lamps as far as possible.

The Electric Supply cables and poles, Bengal Telephone lines and telegraph wires and poles will be taken up where necessary and fixed in their new positions,

The Diamond Harbour Road, the Circular Garden Reach Road and the new 84 feet road will be planted with trees on both sides in usual manner.

Provision has been made in this estimate for tank filling and land raising within the scheme, surface water drainage and the relaying of the existing tram tracks.

The estimated expenditure on the scheme is as follows :—

	Rs.
Cost of acquisition of land	32,00,000
Receipts from sale of land and exemption fees ...	23,50,000
Net cost of land	8,50,000

North—Starting from the point where the eastern side of the Patuapara road strikes the Bager khal as marked by pillar No. 8, the northern boundary follows the south bank of the khal in an easterly direction, and crosses the said khal where the latter turns southwards; continuing eastwards the boundary follows the south side of the Kulia road, north of Jonepur village, to the point where a straight line drawn northwards in continuation of the eastern boundary of the officers' colony cuts the Kulia road.

East—The eastern boundary proceeds southwards from this point, along the eastern boundary of the officers' colony, to the south-east corner of the latter, and thence in a straight line to the north-east corner of the subordinates' colony and along the eastern boundary of the latter to the south-east corner of same.

South—The boundary then runs westwards along the southern boundary of the subordinates' colony to east side of the main line, then southwards along the east side of the main line to the Halishahar Up Home Signal (Calcutta end of Station). The south boundary crosses the line at this point, proceeds northwards along the west side of the main line to Colonel Gupta's road and follows the north side of this road to a point 200 yards east of Colonel Gupta's tank where the first pillar No. 1 demarcating the eastern boundary of the Halishahar Municipality stands.

West—The western boundary runs from the latter point in a north-westerly direction until it meets the Dangapara road at a point marked by a boundary pillar No. 5. Thence it follows the north side of Dangapara road, turns northwards at the pillar No. 6 where the last named road crosses the Bhandarkhola road and runs along the east side of the Bhandarkhola road and Patuapara road past the musjid, until it strikes the Bager khal, pillar No. 8.

The Hon'ble the Finance Member opened the proceedings on the 12th July. The Committee finished its sittings on the 15th July.

1. We are of opinion that in view of the difficulties arising from a recent interpretation by a High Court of the word "Income" in section 3 of the Act, that section should be altered on the lines of the English Income Tax Act in order to provide that income tax shall be charged not on "Income" but "in respect of property, profits or gains" as described in Schedules or specific sections of the Act.

2. In view of the variety of systems of keeping accounts in this country we are of opinion that it is impossible to prescribe in the Act any uniform system of account-keeping on which profits shall be worked out.

3. We recommend that the Indian Income Tax Act should be extended in full to British Baluchistan and not confined, as at present, to the incomes of Government servants.

4. We agree that the Indian Income Tax Act should be amended in order to provide that no account shall be taken of any income derived from a Hindu undivided family by any individual member of the family in determining the rate at which that individual member shall pay income tax on his separate income.

5. We agree that the Act should be amended in order to make the total income determine the liability to the tax as well as the rate at which the tax should be assessed on every portion of that income, and also in order to make the deduction on account of insurance premia permissible in the case of all incomes from whatever source derived.

We are not in favour of the recommendation made by the Mohammedan members of the Madras Committee that an allowance equal to or in lieu of insurance premia should be made in the case of those communities which have religious objections against life insurance.

6. The majority of the members of the Committee are of opinion that the adjustment system should be abolished provided that the assessments made in the current year be adjusted.

As regards new businesses we are of opinion that no assessment should be made until the second year. Provision should, however, be made in the Act for businesses that close down during the course of a financial year that the Collector may assess for that year on the profits received for the portion of the year during which the business is carried on.

We consider that there should be statutory provision that the owners of a business about to be closed down should give notice to the Revenue authorities of their intention to close down the business 15 days before the business is closed down. An addition should be made to section 24 for this purpose. Rai Bahadur Ganga Ram and Dewan Tek Chand would prefer that this provision should not apply to persons who have not been previously assessed.

7. We are of opinion that all rules under the Income Tax Act should be made by the Government of India and that no rules should be made by the local Governments.

We endorse the opinion of the English Royal Commission on Income Tax in paragraph 408 (b) of their report that, where it can be done without detriment to the public interest, the general purport of the instructions issued to the income tax staff, so far as they affect tax payers, should be made available to the public.

8. As regards the question of the graduation of the tax we are of opinion that the grievance caused by the "jumps" is not sufficient to justify any change in the present system. Some members consider that the Schedule should be altered by the addition of two new rates of 7½ pies for incomes between Rs. 10,000 and Rs. 12,500 and 10½ pies for incomes between Rs. 17,500 and Rs. 20,000. The majority, however, do not consider that even this change is required.

9. We are of opinion that the distinction between registered and unregistered firms should be abolished and that the Act should make provision somewhat on the lines of the English Act for assessing the profits of partnerships as such at the highest rate. If the individual partners file their statements of personal income at the same time, the assessor will merely have to ascertain whether the whole of the partnership profits are accounted for in these personal statements, in which event he would charge the partners direct at the appropriate rate. It would be left for the decision of the assessor in each case to decide whether a partnership existed or not. The super-tax on unregistered firms should be abolished Super-tax would then be levied on each individual partner on his total income The only difficulty anticipated is as regards the non-resident partner. We consider that provision should be made in the Act empowering the Income-tax assessor to call upon any resident partners or representatives of a firm to pay the super-tax due on the share of the profits belonging to any non-resident partner. We do not consider it feasible to insert any provision requiring any such resident partner or representative of the firm to get from the non-resident partner a statement of any other income that may accrue to him in India.

10. We are of opinion that the present rules made by most local Governments providing that the tax shall only be refunded in the district in which it was levied should be abolished and that any rules made should provide that a refund should be granted to an assessee in the district in which he is assessed to income tax, or, if he is not assessed, the district of his residence. We also recommend that it should be made obligatory on all persons who deduct income-tax from interest on Government securities or the securities of companies to issue to all security holders a certificate that income-tax has been deducted at the maximum rate, and that companies distributing dividends should be required by law to give a certificate that income-tax has been or will be paid at the maximum rate. In both cases the amount of rate should be specified in the certificate. These certificates should be accepted as a final authority for a refund in the district in which the assessee is assessed, or, if he is not assessed, in which the assessee resides.

We recommend that applications for refunds should be received by post and that the refunds for those assessees who do not present themselves before the Collector should be remitted by money-order. In such cases the cost of the money order should be borne by Government and should not be deducted from the amount refunded.

We are unable to support the recommendation of the Bombay Committee that in the case of Government securities the tax should be recovered at the lowest rate, the balance due being recovered direct from the assessee by the Collector.

RECOMMENDATIONS REGARDING SPECIFIC SECTIONS.

SECTION 2 (2).

11. Mr. Roy put forward the proposal that the members of a Hindu undivided family should be permitted to register their shares with the Collector and that where there is registration of the whole 16 annas share assessment should be made individually on each member of the family only in respect of his share. He wishes this proposal to have effect although the income is not as a matter of fact actually distributed according to the registered shares. Mr. Manmohandas Ramji supports this proposal. Rai Bahadur Ganga Ram, Dewan Tek Chand and Mr. Jatar consider that the change proposed is neither possible nor desirable. The other members of the Committee do not wish to express any view upon this point, except to point out that if this proposal is carried out, the proposal previously made (paragraph 4 above) that the income derived by any individual member of an undivided Hindu family should not be taken into account in determining the rate of tax to which he is liable should have to be dropped.

SECTION 2 (4).

12. We agree to the proposal that the definition of Chief Revenue authority should be amended so as to permit a person other than the Financial Commissioner or the Board of Revenue being appointed as head of the Income Tax Department in provinces where these authorities exist. We also agree to the proposal of the Madras Committee that the designations of the Chief Revenue Authority, Collector and Commissioner should be abolished as they are likely to cause confusion and that the Income Tax authorities should be given a distinct nomenclature distinguishing between the assessor, the appellate authority and the head of the department. We also agree with the view of the Madras Committee that the Income Tax Commissioner should not be appointed as a matter of routine but should be an officer experienced in income tax work in India who is himself prepared to keep the post for a sufficient time to preserve consistency and continuity.

The Bengal members are only prepared to agree to the proposal regarding the amendment of the definition of "Chief Revenue Authority" on condition that their proposal regarding the association of non-official agency with the Commissioner of Income Tax in the disposal of revision cases and cases referred to High Court is accepted (see paragraphs 39 and 54 below).

SECTION 2 (5).

13. We agree with the proposal that the definition of "assessor" should make it clear that in cases where a business has various branches whether situated within the same province or more provinces than one, the assessor of the district in which the branch is situated should be given the powers conferred by this definition on the Collector of the headquarters district.

SECTION 2 (11).

14. We agree that power should be taken to fix by rule the "previous year" for any commercial community when the year adopted by the community does not conform with the present definition in the Act. There are two cases to be provided for, (1) the case where a commercial year may be slightly over or slightly under twelve months, and (2) the case where a commercial year ends shortly after the 31st March. In the latter case it is suggested that "previous year" should include a year terminating within one month after the end of the financial year.

SECTION 3 (1).

15. We are not in favour of the proposal of the Bombay Committee that the Act should be extended so as to make liable to Indian income tax incomes earned outside British India when not received in British India.

When an assessee domiciled in British India has an Income accruing outside British India and brings that income into British India at intervals, the Act should provide that these accumulated profits shall be liable to assessment whenever brought into British India, irrespective of whether they are brought within the year in which they are earned or not.

SECTION 3 (2) (iv), (v).

16. We agree with the proposal that the concessions given to the particular provident funds mentioned in these clauses should be extended to the provident or superannuation funds of private firms and companies. It would, however, be necessary to lay down some general principles (in particular providing that no such privilege should be conferred upon any funds which have not irrevocably left the control of the proprietors of the business), and these principles might suitably be inserted in the rules to be framed under the Act, pending legislation for such funds, which we understand is at present under consideration.

SECTION 3 (2) (viii).

17. We consider that the Legislative authorities should be asked whether this clause read with the definition of the word "business" in section 2 (3) will cover the case of a person purchasing one house with the intention of selling it for profit, and if the case is not covered, we suggest that the Act should be amended in order to provide for such a case.

SECTION 5.

18. We agree that efforts should be made to simplify the forms of returns for income-tax purposes so as to make them as intelligible as possible to the assessees, and that the forms should be prescribed by rules made by the Government of India.

SECTION 6.

19. We agree that this section should be amended in order to require all employers to deduct income-tax from all payments to their employees under "Salaries."

SECTION 8.

20. We agree that this section should be amended so as to provide for the case of premises let for business purposes and also for the assessment under this section of such premises as wharves, millyards, etc.

In view of the heavy loss that would be involved, we are not prepared to recommend that municipal taxation should be allowed as a deduction under this section. Mr. Roy and Mr. M. M. Ramji would allow deductions in respect of municipal taxation on house property and would make up the loss by increasing the rates of income-tax generally.

We do not consider that any allowance should be made for brokerage for arranging loans on mortgages and legal charges relating thereto as they are in the nature of capital charges.

We are unable to accept the recommendation of the Bombay Committee that, when the annual value exceeds the actual receipts from rent, tax should be levied from the tenant on the difference, or that the landlord should be empowered to recover tax from the tenant, as this seems to us to be a matter for mutual arrangement between the landlord and the tenant.

SECTION 8 (i), (ii).

21. We consider that the allowance of one-sixth for repairs is a generous one and that there is no case for increasing it. Mr. Roy dissents and would abolish the one-sixth allowance and allow actual expenditure in every case.

SECTION 8 (vi).

22. We do not consider that any alteration is required in sub-clause (vi) regarding collection charges.

SECTION 8 (vii).

23. We do not consider that any alteration is required in sub-clause (vii) regarding the allowance for vacancies. If there is any want of uniformity or regularity in connection with any such allowance the matter could be cured by executive instructions.

SECTION 9.

24. We do not consider it necessary or possible to specify in this section all allowances which are admissible or inadmissible. Suggestions have been received from Madras for the insertion in this section of a large number of allowances most of which are generally allowed under sub-section (2) (ix); lack of uniformity in granting deductions permissible under that sub-section can be provided for by the issue of executive instructions; in particular we consider that such instructions should be issued providing for allowances for bad debts, when consistent with the system of accounts adopted by the assessee.

SECTION 9 (2) (iii).

25. We agree that instructions should be issued that under section 9 (2) (iii) interest paid to a partner on a legal loan lent by him to the firm should be allowed as a business expense to the firm. We cannot accept the proposal made by the majority of the Madras Committee that the share of profits given to Mohammedan depositors in lieu of interest on borrowed capital should be allowed as a business expense.

26. We cannot accept the proposal made by the Bombay Committee that salaries paid to a partner should be allowed as a business expense.

SECTION 9 (2) (iv).

27. We agree that the allowances provided for in clause 9 (2) (iv) should be extended so as to cover insurance of stocks, stores and office furniture.

We are unable to support the recommendation of the Bengal Committee that allowance should be made for internal insurance by a firm itself. The non-official members from Bengal and the United Provinces dissent.

We do not consider it advisable to insert any provision in the Act for allowing as a business deduction insurance against a loss of profit. We think there should be a standing instruction that where the owner of a business asks for any such allowance it should be given on the assessee agreeing to pay income-tax on any amount recovered from the insurance company. The same principle should apply to insurance against loss of rent under section 8.

SECTION 9 (2) (vi).

28. We recommend that the section should be amended so as to provide that depreciation at the rates sanctioned by the Government of India should be allowed every year when there are sufficient profits and only the excess of the depreciation allowance over profits should be carried forward from year to year until absorbed, that this practice should be followed whether the depreciation allowance is adjusted in the accounts or not and irrespective of the amount shown in the accounts. We agree that the sub-section 9 (2) (vi) should be further amended in order that the rates of depreciation approved by the Government of India should be fixed rates and not maxima, and should apply to the whole of India.

SECTION 9 (2) (viii).

29. We are unable to accept the recommendation made by the majority of the Madras Committee that the provisions of this section should be extended so as to provide that all municipal taxes on a business whether in respect of premises or otherwise should be allowed as a business expense even if such a tax varies with the income of the business and is in the nature of a local income tax.

SECTION 9 (2) (ix).

30. We are of opinion that bona fide expenditure for the welfare of the employees of a business should be allowed as a business expense under this sub-section on conditions to be prescribed by the Government of India or to be agreed upon between the Government of India and the assessee. We recognise that it is impossible to make any specific provision in the Act for this purpose.

SECTION 14 (2).

31. We consider that the words "by collection in that year" should be omitted, as they are inconsistent with section 36 (5).

We agree that it is necessary to omit from this section the words "and the taxable income of such company or firm is Rs. 2,000 or upwards" and to provide for the maximum rate being levied on the whole of the taxable income of the company or firm.

SECTION 17.

32. We consider that when a particular period is prescribed in the notice within which a return must be made, that period should date from the date of service of the notice on the assessee and not from the date on which the notice was issued. We consider it unnecessary to extend the period within which a return must be furnished to 60 days, as the Collector has complete discretion to extend the period.

SECTION 17 (2).

33. We are unable to accept the recommendation made by the Bombay Committee that the old summary procedure should be reintroduced for incomes between Rs. 2,000 and Rs. 5,000. Mr. Manmohandas Ramji dissents from this conclusion.

SECTION 18.

34. We do not consider that any change should be made in this section on the lines suggested by the Madras Committee (viz., that the Collector must specify the particular accounts and documents to be produced and not to call for all documents and accounts as we consider that the present provisions of this section are sufficiently clear.

We agree with the Madras Committee that the section should be amended in order that it should not be obligatory on the Collector in every case to call for accounts where he considers the return in any way to be incorrect. We consider that this object could be attained by substituting the words "or produce" for the words "and produce" in sub-section (2). The object of the amendment is to provide that the Collector may dispose of a case by a personal interview with the assessee without being required by the Act to call for documents if he does not think this necessary.

We agree that the sections of the Act which provide that an assessee must attend either in person or by a pleader should be amended so as to allow the assessee to be represented by any person authorized by him.

We agree with the Bengal recommendation that a Collector should have power to call for the production of accounts whether a return has or has not been filed. We recommend that executive instructions should be issued to prevent undue detention of accounts called for by an assessor.

We do not agree with the Bombay proposal that income-tax Collectors should be debarred from taking notes from accounts of the names of persons who borrowed money from or lent money to the firm that is being assessed. We agree that any such notes must be kept strictly confidential. Mr. Manmohandas Ramji and Mr. Roy dissent from this.

SECTION 18(5).

35. We recommend that the Act should be amended in order to provide for cases where the income from salary is by itself below Rs. 2,000 and is not liable to taxation at the source, and where an assessee's total income by the addition of other income to his salary is over Rs. 2,000. This suggestion is made as section 18(5) refers only to sections 8-11.

SECTION 20.

36. We are unable to recommend the suggestion of the Madras Committee that an assessee should in all cases be supplied free with a copy of the Collector's order of assessment along with the notice of demand. We agree, however, that an assessee should be supplied by the Collector with a copy of the order of assessment free of charge if he applies for it.

The majority of the members agree to the recommendation of the Madras Committee that where there is a change in the proprietorship of a business or profession, it should be made clear in the Act that the liability for the tax based on the income of the preceding year attaches to the business or profession itself and that the new owners are liable for the tax although they were not owners for the whole of the time during which the profits on which the assessment is made were earned This will also apply to cases where a company has been bought up by another company.

SECTION 21.

37. We are not in favour of the Madras Committee's proposal that an appeal should be allowed in cases where an assessee has failed to make a return or to comply with a notice requiring him to produce his accounts unless the appellate authority finds that the failure is knowing or wilful. We are, however, in favour of the proposal of the Bengal Committee that as it is very difficult to determine that a person has "knowingly and wilfully" failed to make a return under section 17 or to comply with the terms of a notice under section 18, section 21 should be amended so that any person who has after due notice and reasonable opportunity failed to make a return or to comply with the terms of a notice under section 18 should not be able to petition or appeal against an order of assessment or adjustment. Where, however, an assessment has in such a case been made under section 18 (4) and an assessee shows within one month from the date of service on him of a notice of demand to the satisfaction of the Collector that his omission to make a return or to comply with the terms of a notice under section 18 is due to want of due notice or lack of reasonable opportunity it should be open to the Collector to make a fresh assessment without the assessee having to file an appeal to the appellate authority against the original assessment. Dewan Tek Chand and Rai Bahadur Ganga Ram would prefer the Madras Committee's proposal.

SECTION 22.

38. As regards the view of the Madras Committee that the words "and fixing such time for payment as he thinks fit" in this section are inconsistent with the provisions of section 35, we are of opinion that section 22 only gives the Commissioner power, when he passes his final order on the appeal, to fix a date for payment and it gives the Commissioner no power to pass an order prior to the final order on the petition, requiring that the collection of the tax assessed shall be postponed, the Collector retaining his power under section 35 at his discretion to postpone collection pending disposal of an appeal.

We are not in favour of the suggestion mentioned by the Madras Committee that appeals should be heard by non-official persons appointed by the local Government.

SECTION 23.

39. We are not in favour of the proposal put forward by the Bengal Committee that, if a petitioner so desires it, his petition should be heard and disposed of by the Chief Revenue Authority sitting with two non-official assessors whose functions would be advisory only. We do not think it would be possible to get a panel of non-official assessors willing to undertake this duty in most of the districts, and we do not consider it advisable that the Chief Revenue Authority should always deal with revision cases at the headquarters of the province. The non-official members from Bengal dissent

SECTION 24.

40. We recommend that this section should be amended in order to make it clear that the penalty imposed under it is a penalty and is not "income tax."

SECTION 25.

41. We agree that this section should be amended by altering the words "at any time in the year next following" to "at any time up to the end of the year next following."

Seven of the members of the Committee are in favour of extending the period under this section to three years, provided that in making assessments or re-assessments care is taken not to call for the production of account books unnecessarily and to detain them unduly. Six members of the Committee would retain the period of one year.

We agree that the last words of the section "and all the provisions of this Act shall apply accordingly" should be amended in order to make it clear that all that is necessary is that the Collector should commence the proceedings for the assessment or re-assessment within the period prescribed by this section.

SECTION 26.

42. We agree with the proposal put forward by several provincial committees that this section should be amended so as to allow the Collector to rectify mistakes of his own motion.

We agree that it should be made clear, either by re-wording the section itself or by executive instructions, that the word to "mistake" in this section refers only a mistake which is patent from the facts or documents which were before the assessing officer when he passed the original assessment order and that it is not intended either to confer a general power of review or to authorise any assessee to introduce new facts. The period under this section should be the same as in section 25.

We recommend that the word "may" in the first line of the section should be replaced by the word "shall."

SECTION 28.

43. We agree with the proposal of the Bengal Committee that provision should be made in this section to enable a Collector to require information to be given regarding specific payments when there is reason to believe that such payments could become liable to income-tax in the hands of the recipients. Mr. Manmohandas Ramji dissents on the ground that the Bombay Committee are opposed to any attempts to obtain information regarding the income of any assessee from any other party.

SECTION 33.

44. We are unable to propose, as recommended by the Bombay Committee, any suitable definition of the words "business connection" and "agent." We are, however, of opinion that special efforts should be made to make the working of this section uniform and to define the policy to be followed throughout the whole of India, either by rules or by executive instructions.

SECTION 35.

45. We do not see any reason to accept the Madras proposal for omission of the words "or if a time is not so mentioned, then on or before the first day of the second month following the date of the notice or order."

SECTION 36.

46. We agree with the proposal of the United Provinces Committee that sub-section (1) of this section should be divided into two sub-sections, one providing separately for levy of the penalty and one for realisation of the demand.

We do not think it is necessary to alter this section as proposed by the Madras Committee in order to make it possible to arrest a defaulter in the Madras City.

SECTION 37.

47. We consider that it should be made clear in the Act that where income-tax is deducted at the source it is the gross amount of the income before the income-tax is deducted that is to be taken into consideration in determining the rate at which an assessee shall be liable to income-tax on the rest of his income and also in determining his liability to super-tax.

Clause (b) of this section should be amended in order to make it clear that it is the amount of the profits to which a partner is entitled and not the profits which he has actually received which determines his personal liability to income-tax and his claim to a refund.

SECTION 38.

48. We consider that the period within which claims for refund under section 37 should be allowed should be extended to three years from the last day of the year to which the claim related, if a similar extension is made with regard to the period prescribed in sections 25 and 26.

SECTION 41.

49. We agree with the Bengal Committee that the question should be considered of whether a reference to section 28 is required in this section as it is not clear whether such reference is necessary in order to bring section 177 of the Indian Penal Code into operation against a person who makes a false statement under section 28.

SECTION 41.

50. As regards a suggestion from the Madras Committee for an alteration regarding the officer empowered to sanction prosecutions we think that the power to sanction prosecutions should be conferred upon the appellate authority under the Act and not upon the Income-tax Collector.

SECTION 42.

51. We agree that this section should be amended in order to make penal the disclosure of any information contained in any income-tax assessment record or any evidence or answer given by any person examined by revenue authorities.

We also think that it should be made clear in the Act that these documents or records cannot be called for by civil courts and suggest that the wording of the English Act should be followed, preventing public servants from disclosing information obtained in connection with the assessment of incomes except to such persons only as act in the execution of the Act, and where it shall be necessary to disclose the same to them for the purposes of the Act, or in order to, or in the course of, a prosecution for perjury committed in connection with proceedings under the Act.

We are, further, strongly of opinion that the practice in certain provinces of furnishing information to local authorities, who impose a tax on "circumstances and property" or a local income-tax of the details of assessments made by the income-tax authorities must be stopped.

We do not accept the proposal of the Madras Committee that for the words "Local Government" the words "District Officer or Magistrate or an officer of his status" should be substituted in the proviso, as section 50 empowers the Local Government to delegate its powers to the head of the Income-tax Department.

SECTION 46.

52. The Legislative Department might consider the objection raised by the Madras Committee to the words "by the delivery or tender to him" in this section. That Committee recommends that the section should be amended in order to make it clear that a notice may be served in the manner prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure for the service of summons.

SECTION 47.

53. We agree to the proposal of the United Provinces Committee that this section should be so worded as to make it clear that the reference to the Government of India under this section is optional and not compulsory: that is, where the provinces concerned agree as to what is to be considered the principal place of business, no reference need be made to the Government of India.

SECTION 51.

54. We are of opinion that a reference to the High Court should be made only on a question of law and not on a question of fact. Mr. Manmohandas Ramji dissents. We agree to the proposal that this section should be amended so that the Chief Revenue Authority should no longer have power to withhold a reference to the High Court on the ground that an application is frivolous, or that a reference is unnecessary, but should be required to state a case to the High Court on the application of an assessee. Also that in order to provide against frivolous and unnecessary applications the section should contain a provision that every such application should be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 100. In order to safeguard the revenue the section must provide that the fact that a case has been stated to the High Court shall not in any way stop the collection of the income-tax due from the assessee. The assessee must pay the tax, but if owing to the judgment of the High Court the amount of assessment is reduced the amount overpaid shall be refunded with such interest if any as the High Court may allow. Two members of the Committee would levy a fee of Rs. 20 and one member would charge no fee at all. The Bengal representatives and Mr. Birch are of opinion that there should not be an unrestricted right of appeal but that if the Chief Revenue Authority does not state a case on an application it should be open to the petitioner to require him to reconsider his decision sitting with two non-official assessors, the opinion of the majority to prevail.

We unanimously agree to the proposal of the Madras Committee that the section should be further amended in order to make it clear that the application for reference need not be made before the final order is passed by the Chief Revenue Authority but should be made within one month after the passing of the order. In order to secure the revenue such a reference should only be made after the assessment order has been passed.

We unanimously agree that no authority other than the Chief Revenue Authority should be required or allowed to state a case.

GENERAL.

54. (a) We do not consider that any alteration is required in the definition of "Magistrate' in section 2 (9) of the Act as suggested by the members of the Madras Committee.

55. We agree to the proposal made by several Provincial Committees that losses under one head of income should be charged against profits under another. Under the wording of section 14 it is the aggregate amount chargeable under each head that determines taxable income, so that where a person has carried on a trade or profession and also has an income from house property if he has incurred an actual loss in the trade, the figure adopted under that head in arriving at the aggregate amount of income chargeable to income-tax is nil and not a minus sum. The majority of the Committee 8 against 6 are opposed to the proposal made by the Bengal Committee that business losses should be carried forward for 3 years.

56. The majority of the Committee are opposed to the Bengal Committee's proposal that provision should be made in the Act for making persons who are liable to income-tax liable to submit a return to the Collector of Income-tax whether called upon to do so or not.

57. We do not accept the recommendation of the Bombay Committee that accountants who claim to have examined accounts of a taxpayer should be called upon to take a declaration on oath that the accounts are correct for income-tax purposes and that a penalty should be imposed where certified accounts are found to be incorrect from this point of view.

58. With reference to proposals of the Bombay Committee and the United Provinces Chamber of Commerce we consider that there should be no alteration in the present provision regarding the super-tax on companies; more particularly in view of the loss of income involved. Under the terms of our reference we are debarred from making any proposals involving a loss of revenue unless accompanied by proposals for recouping that loss.

59. Our opinion has been asked by the Government of India on certain difficulties experienced in the working of rule 15 of the Devolution Rules which provides for the provinces obtaining a share in the growth of income-tax receipts in so far as that growth is due to an increase in the amount of income assessed. The difficulty is that income-tax on the profits of a Company is collected in the province in which the headquarters of the Company is situated and the province where the whole of the operations of the Company are carried on, does not collect any income-tax from the Company. The non-official members recognize that there must be hardships in many cases but they are unable to lay down any general rule and leave it to the Government of India to decide where a case is such as to require any specific action. The case of Tata's Iron and Steel Works was considered an exceptional case. The non-official members of the Committee (other than the Bombay representatives) think that in this particular case as the whole operations of the Company are conducted in Behar and Orissa and as the Company itself has asked that the income-tax assessed on it should be collected in Behar and Orissa, the Government of India should reconsider their previous decision in the matter.

Where the assessment of a Company or firm or business is transferred from one province to another, subsequent to the year 1920-21, the Committee are unanimously of opinion that the amount of income assessed in provinces in 1920-21 for the purpose of this rule should be reduced in the case of the province from which the Company is transferred and a corresponding increase made in the assessed income of the province to which the business is transferred.

60. With reference to the suggestion of Mr. Manmohandas Ramji that provision should be made for the alleviation of the burden of double income-tax where the same income, or part of the same income, is taxed in more countries than one, it was explained that at a conference between representatives of the Home Government and the Dominions and of India an agreement was arrived at to the following effect:

That in respect of income tax both in the United Kingdom and in India there should be deducted from the appropriate rate of the United Kingdom income-tax (including super-tax) the whole of the rate of the Indian income-tax charged in respect of the same income, subject to the limitation that in no case should the maximum rate of relief given by the United Kingdom exceed one half of the rate of the United Kingdom income-tax (including super-tax) to which the individual taxpayer might be liable, and that any further relief necessary in order to confer on the taxpayer relief amounting in all to the lower of the two taxes (United Kingdom and Indian) should be given by India. That is to say, the proposal is that where income is liable to taxation both in the United Kingdom and in India, it should pay only at the highest rate leviable in either country. These proposals have been accepted by the Government of the United Kingdom and are embodied in section 27 of the Finance Act of 1920. Under that provision a person whose income is assessed both in the United Kingdom and in India is entitled to claim from the authorities of the United Kingdom a refund or rebate of the rate levied in India up to one half of the English rate. We recommend that the Indian Act should be amended in order to implement the bargain arrived at and to provide that where any further relief is to be given in order to secure that such a person shall not pay a rate higher than the highest rate in either country, such relief will be given by India, subject to the limitation that the relief given in India shall not exceed half of the rate of income-tax and super-tax combined. At present the Indian rates of income-tax and super-tax combined are less than half of the rates in the United Kingdom, and therefore no loss will at the outset be incurred to Indian revenues from this arrangement. Loss will only be incurred when owing to any alteration in the rates, the Indian rate is more than half the English rate, and the loss would merely be the amount by which the Indian rate exceeds half the English rate.

61. The non-official members of the Committee desire to record their opinion that a matter of greater importance than the amendment of the Act is an increase in the number and efficiency of the staff, which should consist of officers of the highest training and integrity. They would emphasise that the Income-tax Department should include experts of high standing trained in accountancy whose remuneration should be such as to reflect the market value of their professional experience and attainments. Accountancy should be one of the foundations of training for the whole service. The scale of pay should be such as to attract the best material available and all posts in the department including the highest should be open to any officer of proved experience and capacity.

62. We have recommended that all the rules under the Act should be made by the Government of India and that local Governments should have no power to frame any rule. We have further throughout our report recommended that numerous details regarding assessment and the interpretation of provisions of the Act can only be settled and made uniform by issue of the rules and instructions. It is therefore essential in our opinion that the Government of India should hav at least the nucleus of a department with functions similar to those of the Board of Inland Revenue in England.

63. In conclusion the non-official members of the Committee desire to place on record their appreciation of the services rendered by Mr. Sim, and the other officers associated with him in preparing the materials for the consideration of the Committee and of the assistance rendered by them during the sittings of the Committee.

CALCUTTA, THE 16TH JULY 1921.

RESOLUTION—No. 11015F.

IN supersession of all previous orders on the subject, the Governor in Council, with the approval of the Government of India, is pleased to prescribe the following rules regulating the travelling allowances and residential allowances of the members of the Bengal Legislative Council, who are required to leave their official headquarters or usual places of residence for the purpose of attending meetings of the Council or transacting business connected with their duties as members of the Council :—

Rules.

1. No member may draw either travelling allowance or residential allowance unless he has to leave his official headquarters or usual place of residence for the purpose of attending meetings of Council or transacting business connected with his duties as a member of Council.

NOTE.—Travelling allowance to a member will be paid from his usual place of residence, if within the province, or from the headquarters of his constituency, if his usual place of residence is outside the province.

2. The expression " Session " means the whole period of a legislative season, from the time when the Council is assembled to the time when it is prorogued.

3. A member of Council is entitled to allowances under these rules for attending either a meeting of the Council or a meeting of a committee of which he is a member.

4. Travelling allowance and residential allowance are admissible if a member is summoned to attend—

(a) a meeting of the Council or of a committee, during the session, or (b) a meeting of a committee, out of session.

5. If a member attends the first meeting of a session of the Council and stays throughout the session, as defined in rule 2, he may draw the residential allowance for the whole session :

Provided that such member has attended all meetings of the Council during such session, or in the case of absence from any meeting, has explained such absence to the satisfaction of the President.

6. No member may draw travelling allowance and residential allowance for the same day.

7. If a member attends a particular meeting of the Council or of a committee, arriving and leaving on the day of the meeting, he may draw travelling allowance, but not residential allowance.

8. If a member does not arrive or leave on the day of the meeting, he will be considered to arrive on the day before the meeting and to leave the day after the meeting, even if, as a matter of fact, he arrives some days before or leaves some days after. He will, therefore, be entitled to travelling allowance for the day before and the day after the meeting, and to residential allowance for the day of the meeting only, and not for any other days during which he may reside in the place where the Council or committee is sitting before or after the meeting :

Provided that in the case of adjournments, which do not extend to more than a seven days' interval, a mufassal member may elect to stay in the place where the Council or committee is sitting for the intervening period and may, for that period, draw residential allowance instead of travelling allowance to his headquarters and back.

9. Residential allowance may not be drawn for any day after—

(a) the close of the session, or
(b) the completion of the business for which a member is summoned out of session.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above resolution be communicated to the several departments of this Government, including the Legislative Department, and to the Accountant-General, Bengal.

ORDERED also that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

QUESTION OF ESTABLISHING A NAUTICAL SCHOOL IN CALCUTTA.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION—No. 2772Marine.

CALCUTTA, THE 8TH AUGUST 1921.

READ—

The report of the Committee appointed to consider the question of a nautical school in Calcutta.

A COMMITTEE was appointed in the Bengal Government resolution No. 478Marine, dated the 3rd February 1920, to consider the question of establishing a nautical institute in Calcutta for the training of Indian seamen in the elements of the theory of navigation and for the training of Indians in the art of navigation on a scientific basis. The committee submitted their report to Government in April 1920. Government have since been making further enquiries into the matter, and the report of the committee together with the conclusions of the Governor in Council are now published for general information.

2. The committee recommend that a nautical school should not be started in Bengal at present on account of there not being sufficient ships available which would carry Indian apprentices. They suggest that either Government or the mercantile community of Bengal should obtain one or two vessels of about 1,000 tons burden to be engaged in mercantile trade and constructed to carry from 15 to 20 apprentices for experimental purposes. One member of the committee, Mr. P. N. Guha, while agreeing with these two recommendations, has submitted a separate note in which he urges that the question should not be shelved, though he admits that it will not be possible for Government to do much in the direction of opening the career of seamen for the younger generation of Bengal unless and until there is a sufficient number of ships owned and run by Indians on which Indian apprentices can obtain employment.

3. In view of the brevity of the report, Government thought it desirable to institute further enquiries into the possibility of securing admission for Indian apprentices on sea-going vessels. The enquiries show that there is little prospect of boys who pass through a nautical school obtaining employment at sea subsequently, and the mere establishment of a nautical school would not remove this difficulty. There appears to be some impression that a course of training in a nautical school is necessary in order to obtain a mate's certificate, but this is not the case. The qualifications prescribed by the rules are four years' service at sea, or, as an alternative, two years' service in a training ship and three years' service at sea. A course in a nautical school is therefore not a necessary qualification for a mate's certificate, and no amount of theoretical training in a school will make a competent seaman: the essential part of the training for a career on the sea is the period of apprenticeship on board a sea-going vessel. To this end the committee have suggested that either Government or the mercantile community of Bengal should charter one or two vessels for trade and training purposes. Government are not prepared to adopt this suggestion, which would involve considerable expenditure and would not solve the crucial difficulty of finding employment for trained men. Mr. Guha's conclusion as to the ultimate remedy is undoubtedly correct. The question cannot be solved by Government alone. Until shipowners are prepared to take Indian youths as apprentices on their ships with a view to enabling them to qualify for mate's and master's certificates and to employ them as ships' officers after they have qualified, the provision of nautical schools and theoretical training can be of no avail. In the present state of the provincial finances the Governor in Council is not prepared to embark on an expensive scheme of doubtful utility, but it is understood that certain Indian firms have the question of apprenticeship under consideration, and if their schemes mature, His Excellency in Council will be prepared to consider the matter further.

4. It is apparently not generally known that there is in this province a system of examination under section 10 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1859, for the grant of certificates of competency as masters and mates of home-trade sailing vessels of a burden not exceeding 1,000 tons. The rules governing those examinations were published in the Bengal Government notification No. 84Marine, dated the 22nd July 1919, a copy of which is appended to this resolution. Under those rules a candidate for a mate's certificate must be not less than 19 years of age and must have served for four years at sea; and a candidate for a master's certificate must be not less than 20 years of age and must have served five years at sea. Candidates for either class of certificate have to pass an elementary examination in navigation and seamanship. These rules provide some opening for young men to take up the profession of a sailor. The question of their revision is now under consideration, and the Government of Bengal will be glad to consider any practical proposals that may be made for encouraging candidates to come forward at these examinations.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the resolution, with a copy of the report of the committee referred to, be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

1. Beyond letter, dated the 8th March 1920, we have no proof that there would be sufficient numbers willing to go to sea; without this, a Nautical Institution would be unnecessary.

2. We do not consider it advisable to start a Nautical Institution until such time as there are sufficient candidates who will take up the sea as a profession after a two years' trial at sea.

3. The course of training must necessarily be a course of four years afloat; under present circumstances it would not be feasible to carry these lads in vessels that carry European apprentices. A number of lads would probably be Hindus; then the question of food and water would arise.

4. Education required for lads going to sea would be an ordinary school boy's education up to the High School Standard.

5. It is doubtful if the shipping companies would find it either possible or expedient to employ Indians as mates while there were other Europeans on board with whom these Indians would have to associate.

6. We are not sure that the Indian lads realize they must put in sea training, and that College training only would not allow them to qualify for a Board of Trade certificate.

Noted, that none of the gentlemen attended.

RESOLVED—

(i) That a Nautical School should not be started at present on account of there not being sufficient ships available, which would carry Indian apprentices.

(ii) That youths of the same class as the petitioners would not be willing to start a sea career in any other capacity than apprentices.

(iii) That it be suggested that either Government or the mercantile community of Bengal obtain one or two vessels of about 1,000 tons to be engaged in mercantile trade and constructed to carry from 15 to 20 apprentices for experimental purposes.

(iv) That Mr. Guha disagrees with resolutions 1, 2, 3, 4 or 6 of the meeting held on 10th March, and is submitting a minority report.

Views expressed by P. N. Guha, Esq., Representative of the firm of Messrs. Sonaton Nittyanundo Roy, dated Calcutta, the 14th April 1920.

I am afraid the object, in view of which the Government of Bengal appointed the committee to consider the question of advisability or otherwise of starting a Nautical Institute, will not be fulfilled if I merely sign or decline to sign the resolutions of the committee. On this important question the views of the community which I had the honour and privilege to represent must be clearly placed before the Government, and I am, therefore, compelled to take the liberty of discussing the question in details.

It will be recalled that the Government of Bengal by a resolution, dated the 3rd February 1920, appointed a committee to consider the question of establishing a Nautical Institute, and in this committee two Indians were appointed, one Munshi Abdur Rahaman Dubash, of Chittagong, and another, a representative of the firm of Messrs. Sonaton Nittyanundo Roy in which capacity I joined the deliberations of the committee. The committee had three meetings, in the first of which only preliminary discussions took place, and the second meeting of the committee took place on the 10th of March, and by an unpardonable mistake on the part of the office staff of our firm, I was unable to attend this meeting, but other members of the committee came to certain conclusions and submitted their report to the Government. I understand that this report was sent back to the President of the Committee by the Government, with a request to convene another meeting in which I could be present to represent the views of the great Bengali community to which I have the honour to belong. This clearly shows how anxious the Government is to ascertain the popular feelings before coming to a definite conclusion with regard to any matter of public interest, and I think I will be failing in my duty if I do not take this opportunity of thanking the Government for giving me an opportunity to express the views of my community.

The last meeting took place on the 24th March 1920, and under the terms of reference we were to "ascertain definitely whether there was any scope for a Nautical Institute at Calcutta," and, if so, to advise the Government with regard to—

(1) the course of training :
(2) the probable number of boys desirous of going to sea ;
(3) the shipping companies willing to employ them ;
(4) the educational and other qualifications required for such employment, and
(5) any other relevant points.

All the above points were very thoroughly discussed, and I was given a full, patient and sympathetic hearing by the other members of the committee. Here I cannot help expressing my regret at the absence of Munshi Abdur Rahaman Dubash in spite of repeated requests by letters and telegrams. The Munshi, had he been present, could have forcibly presented the case of those brave Muhammadan seamen of Chittagong who have recently rendered so brilliant a service to the cause of the Empire. However, the findings of the committee may be summarised as follows :—

(1) That a Nautical Institute should not be started at present.
(2) Instead thereof, either the Government or the mercantile community of Bengal should obtain one or two vessels of about 1,000 tons to be engaged in mercantile trade and constructed to carry from 15 to 20 apprentices for experimental purpose.

I thoroughly agree with the above views, but I think it necessary to explain the reasons which have induced me to agree to the resolution that a Nautical School should not be started at present.

My colleagues in the committee were all expert seamen, and all of them had vast experience so far as the sea life was concerned They, by cogent reasons, convinced me that no amount of theoretical training received in a school could make a man fit to adopt sea life. On the contrary, school training was not at all essential to become a competent seaman. The essential part of the training for a would-be seaman is his period of apprenticeship on board a vessel. Training in a school after the period of apprenticeship may brush up a candidate's knowledge in navigation, but it alone cannot complete his naval education. A member of the committee told me that he was never in any school. So I found that it was useless to advise the Government to start a Nautical School till some arrangements for placing our young men as apprentices on board sea-going vessels are made.

The whole question centred in one point, viz., are the shipping companies willing to employ the Indians as apprentices? The Marine Superintendents of—

(1) The British India Steam Navigation Company, Limited,
(2) The Asiatic Steam Navigation Company, Limited,
(3) The India General Navigation and Railway Company, Limited, and
(4) The Rivers Steam Navigation Company, Limited, were present; and I asked them point blank if they were willing to take in Indian apprentices. All of them expressed their inability to do so, and their official reply runs as follows :—

"It is doubtful if the shipping companies would find it either possible or expedient to employ Indians as mates, while there were other Europeans on board with whom these Indians would have to associate."

I tried to ascertain the cause of this unwillingness, and got my colleagues to admit that it was the question of prestige that stood in the way. My friends expressed their sympathy with the aspiration of our young men to adopt the sea life, but they could not see their way to allow the Indian lads to mix in equal terms with the European lads who are already there as apprentices. As all the shipping companies, except the one I represented, are run by European capital, I found that nothing was possible at the present moment. It should be mentioned here that our resources are yet very small, and we are unable to employ more than two or three apprentices at present. I can, however, assure the public that we will make it our first duty to employ Indian apprentices on board the vessels of the Eastern Peninsula Navigation Company, Limited, as soon as we can purchase more steamers. As a last chance I tried in a roundabout way. Some of the steamship companies mentioned above carry Government mails along with cargo and passengers. I wanted to know what these companies would do if the Government would refuse to pay them for carrying mails, unless they were prepared to employ Indian apprentices. The reply was "would not care to carry mails." Under these circumstances it was thought advisable to request the Government first to make arrangements for training vessels and then to take up the question of starting a school. In this connection, I cannot help recording my grateful thanks to Captain A. Rowllings, Deputy Marine Superintendent of the Rivers Steam Navigation Company, Limited. It was at his suggestion that the third resolution of the committee was arrived at, and I venture to hope that it will be found possible to acquire one or two vessels as suggested. There are such training ships in England, and the names of SV. Massey, of Liverpool, and SV. Port Jackson, of London, may be mentioned.

At the meeting of the 10th March the committee recorded—

(1) that they had no proof that there would be sufficient number of boys willing to go to sea;
(2) that a number of lads would probably be Hindus; then the question of food and water arises;
(3) that they were not sure that the Indian lads realized that they must put in sea training and that College training alone would not allow them to qualify for a Board of Trade certificate.

With regard to the first of the above, I am afraid my friends have not taken sufficient care to feel the pulse of the country in which they are living. In these days of struggle for existence, there is no honest profession which the young Bengal will hesitate to adopt. That our young men will not be backward to face the hardships of the sea life, has been amply proved by the fact that it did not take the Government long to find sufficient men for 49th Bengalis. Give them the opportunity and they are there.

The second paragraph, viz., the question of food and water, need not be seriously discussed. Though all Hindus are not prepared to take food and water from everybody and anybody, yet there are a sufficient number of them who are not orthodox. But the question of naval education cannot and should not be shelved even if the Hindus do not take to sea life on account of their orthodox feelings. There are thousands of Muhammadans for whose benefit the problem should be solved once for all.

As to the third paragraph, I think it is an insult to the intelligence of Bengali lads to suggest that they do not realize the necessity of practical training for the purpose of qualifying themselves for a Board of Trade certificate. I have come across no such stupid boy who thinks that only College lectures would qualify him for the post of the Chief Officer or Master of a vessel.

In conclusion, I think it my duty to request my countrymen to realize the situation. The Government may give some facilities to a few young men to qualify themselves for the positions of Captains and Officers, but where these young men will be employed ? If the owners of the shipping companies cannot see their way to employ our young men even as apprentices, is it possible that they will employ them as Master or Officers ? There can only be one answer to this question. A number of young men may find employment in the Pilot Service, but even that is not sufficient. I feel that the question of Naval Education and employment of trained seamen in higher capacities cannot be solved only by the Government. The people of the country must bear a large share in solving this problem. There are several big merchants in the Bombay Presidency, who own vessels, and recently a few joint-stock concerns have been started. Lots of young men of Bombay are now being trained and employed in the vessels owned by Indians. I am afraid it will not be possible for the Government to do much in the direction of opening the career of seamen for the younger generation of Bengal unless and until there is a sufficient number of ships owned and run by Indians.

No. 84Marine, dated the 22nd July 1919.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of Bengal, Marine Department.

IN exercise of the power conferred by section 10 of Act I of 1859 (an Act for the amendment of the law relating to merchant seamen) the Governor in Council is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, to make the following rules for the grant of certificates of competency as masters and mates of home-trade sailing vesssls of a burden not exceeding 1,000 tons. These rules are supplementary to the rules for the examination of masters and mates in the Mercantile Marine in force in Bengal :—

Rules for the examination of Masters and Mates of Home Trade sailing vessels of a burden not exceeding 1,000 tons.

1. Mate.—A candidate must be not less than nineteen years of age and have served four year at sea.

2. Examination in Navigation.—He must be able to take a bearing by compass, be conversant with the use of a Mercator's Chart and be able to find, on either a "true" or "magnetic" chart or plan, the course to steer and the distance from one given position to another; and from two bearings of the same object, the course and distance run between taking the bearings being given; also the distance of the ship from the object at the time of taking the second bearing, and to state what the small numbers and roman numerals found on a chart indicate.

3. Examination in Seamanship.—He must possess a thorough knowledge of the rule of the road as regards both steamers and sailing vessels, their regulation lights, and fog and sound signals. He must be able to describe the signals of distress and the signals to be made by ships wanting a pilot, and the liabilities and penalties incurred by the misuse of these signals; also the use and management of the rocket apparatus in the event of his vessel being stranded. He must be able to mark and use the lead and log lines, and to manage a ship's boat in heavy weather; to answer any questions of a like nature appertaining to the duties of the mate which the examiner may think proper to put to him.

4. Master.—A candidate must be not less than twenty years of age and have served five years at sea of which—

(a) one year must have been in a capacity not lower than that of only mate of a home-trade or coasting vessel, whilst holding a mate's certificate for home-trade passenger ships, or a second mate's certificate for foreign-going vessels;

(b) or, two and a half years must have been in a capacity not lower than second mate of a home-trade or coasting vessel in charge of a watch, whilst holding a mate's certificate for home-trade passenger ships, or a second mate's certificate for foreign-going vessels;

6. Examination in Seamanship.—In addition to the qualifications required of a mate, a master must understand how to rig a sea anchor; also how to get a cast of the lead in heavy weather, etc. He will be examined as to his resources for the preservation of the crew and passengers in the event of wreck and the steps to be taken if his vessel is disabled and drifting towards a lee shore, and will be required to answer any other questions appertaining to the management of a coasting-trade ship which the examiner may think necessary to put to him.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Sugarcane crop of Bengal, 1921-22.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1919-20, the area under sugarcane in Bengal has represented some 8·4 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in British India.)

Character of the Season.—At the beginning the weather was generally unfavourable for the planting of seets in the Western Bengal districts owing to lack of sufficient soil moisture, while in the eastern and northern districts the conditions were favourable for the operation owing to timely rain. Dry weather during the months of April and May somewhat retarded the growth, but subsequent rainfall has greatly improved the prospects throughout the Presidency, and the present outlook is reported to be generally promising.

Area planted.—The total area planted with sugarcane for the province is reported to be 220,600 acres this year, against 216,900 acres in the corresponding forecast of last year.

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	8,000	4,700	4,500	March and April ...	The decrease in area was due to want of timely rain and to a poor outturn of last year's crop. The weather was not favourable on the whole at the beginning, but the present weather is expected to help the growth of the plants.
Nadia	7,900	6,200	6,500	Middle of January. Normal.	The slight increase in area was due partly to the ascertainment of more accurate figures from the settlement office and partly to high price of sugar and gur. The weather has been favourable on the whole.
Murshidabad ...	3,600	2,900	3,200	November to May. Normal.	The increase in area is due to high price of gur. The weather has been fairly favourable on the whole.
Jessore	3,900	2,900	4,000	March. Normal ...	The increase in area is due to some jute lands having been utilised for the plantation of sugarcane in the Bongaon subdivision as there has been rise in the price of sugar and fall in the price of jute. The weather was favourable at the beginning, but subsequent want of rain in April and May retarded the growth of the plants. The present condition of the crop is, however, favourable.
Khulna	1,500	1,100	1,100	February. Normal ...	Want of timely rain has retarded the growth of the crop.
Burdwan	25,800	18,900	16,600	Middle of March to beginning of April. Normal.	The decrease in area was due to drought at sowing time. The weather has been exceptionally hot which has retarded the growth of the crop. The outlook appears to be promising owing to recent monsoonish rain.
Birbhum	9,600	9,000	9,000	May. Normal ...	The weather has been favourable.
Bankura	15,000	11,000	9,700	End of May. Late ...	The decrease in area was due to want of rain in March and April. At the beginning, the planting was delayed owing to late rainfall. The weather has since been fairly favourable owing to the fact that the rainfall in June has been favourable to the growth of the crop.
Midnapore	6,600	4,400	6,000	April. Normal ...	The increase in area was due to extended cultivation of the crop owing to high price of sugar. The weather was not favourable owing to scanty rainfall since the beginning, but the recent rainfall has been favourable to the crop.
Hooghly	7,300	4,900	4,900	Sadar—Beginning of April. Serampore—March. Arambagh—Middle of March. (The dates are normal.)	The weather has been favourable in the Serampore subdivision, but unfavourable elsewhere for want of timely rainfall. Nearly half the crop is reported to have been damaged in the Sadar subdivision for want of rain.
Howrah	8,500	5,000	5,300	January to March ...	At planting time, the weather was not favourable for want of rain. Subsequently the weather has been favourable on the whole.
Rajshahi	7,500	6,600	6,800	Latter part of January. Normal.	The weather has been favourable on the whole and beneficial to the growth of the crop.
Dinajpur	25,000	31,000	33,300	January. Normal ...	The increase in area is due to high price of gur and to favourable weather at sowing time. The weather has been favourable.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1921-22.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1919-20, the area under the cotton crops in Bengal has represented some 0·3 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.)

There are two crops—early and late. The "early" crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the Tripura State and to a small extent in other districts. The "late" crop is grown in Bankura and Midnapore. As the "late" crop has not yet been sown, this forecast deals only with the "early" crop.

Character of the season.—The weather was generally unfavourable, both at the sowing time and during the early period of growth. Monsoon rain has, however, improved prospects and the present outlook is reported to be fair.

Area sown.—The area sown is reported to be 66,918 acres this year against 68,470 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 3rd August 1921.

Summary.—Light to moderate rain fell generally throughout the province. Transplantation of winter paddy is progressing briskly, but more rain is required to facilitate the operation. Harvesting of autumn paddy and cutting, steeping and washing of jute are going on. Owing to rise of river level, standing crops have been damaged to some extent in the low-lying tracts of North and East Bengal. The average price of common rice for the province have risen by about 0·90 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 10th August 1921.

Summary.—Excepting a few districts of North Bengal the rainfall was defective throughout the province. More rain is urgently needed to facilitate the transplantation of winter paddy. The progress of the operation is slow in the Western districts. The prospects of deep water paddy are, on the whole, reported to be satisfactory. Harvesting of autumn paddy and cutting, steeping and washing of jute are progressing. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·80 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

BENGAL PILOT SERVICE.

Rules for the appointment of candidates to the Bengal Pilot Service.

Appointments to the Bengal Pilot Service are made by the Government of Bengal and by the Secretary of State for India in the following manner:—

A.—APPOINTMENTS BY THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

1. The appointments made by the Government of Bengal are ordinarily limited to natives of India. For the purpose of this rule a native of India means any person born and domiciled within the dominions of His Majesty in India, or within the territories of Indian Princes tributary to, or in alliance with, His Majesty, or parents habitually resident in India, and not established there for temporary purposes only.

2. In any year in which it is proposed to make appointments locally to the Bengal Pilot Service, a competitive examination will be held in or about the month of March, and six months' previous notice of the examination will be published in the Calcutta Gazette specifying the number of vacancies to be filled up. The successful candidates will be appointed in order of merit ; but no candidate will be appointed who does not satisfy the examiners or who, in other respects, does not come up to the requirements of the following rules.

3. A candidate must produce satisfactory evidence to show that—

(i) he is not less than 18 or more than 22 years of age on the date of the examination: Provided that an intending candidate, who, on the 15th of March of any year in which no examination is held, is not more than 22 years of age and has fulfilled the conditions of service required, shall not be debarred on account of being over the prescribed age from appearing at the next examination ;

(ii) he has passed the Matriculation Examination of an Indian University, or the Cambridge Junior Certificate Examination, or some other public examination regarded as equivalent, or, in the alternative, attended a recognized school, and was, at the date of leaving school, a member of the class preparing for such examination ;

(iii) he has served at sea for four years in a merchant vessel employed in foreign trade as a seaman or apprentice, and his conduct on board has been satisfactory ;

(iv) he is of good health and physically fit to work as a pilot and is of good moral character.

4. Candidates will be examined in Navigation and Seamanship up to the standard of a second mate in the Mercantile Marine, and successful candidates will, before being appointed, have to undergo a further medical examination as to their physical fitness by the Medical Board sitting at Calcutta.

B.—APPOINTMENTS BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

1. The Government of Bengal will use every endeavour to ascertain the existence of suitable local candidates before asking the Secretary of State to make appointments in England.

2. In the case of appointments made by the Secretary of State preference will be given, ceteris paribus, to candidates who have passed through one of the training ships, Worcester and Conway, or at the Pangbourne Nautical College, followed by a course on a sea-going training ship or in the Royal Naval Reserve, or both.

3. Candidates for the Secretary of State's appointments must be not less than 18 and not more than 22 years of age.

4. Every candidate must produce satisfactory evidence as to age and character, and selected candidates are required to appear before the Medical Board at the India Office for examination as to their physical fitness for the work of a pilot in a tropical climate.

5. A selected candidate, if passed by the Medical Board, will receive a first class passage to Calcutta and an outfit allowance of £30. If he resigns or leaves the service before he has served five years, he will be required to refund the cost of his passage to India and the outfit allowance, unless his resignation is due to ill-health certified by a Medical Board sitting at Calcutta. He will have to give an undertaking with two sureties for such refund.

WESTERN BENGAL.

English Literature and Grammar.

For the books recommended by the University of Calcutta as indicating the standard of the Matriculation Examination in English, Head Masters are referred to the University Calendar. It should be noted that these books are intended only to indicate the standard expected of pupils on the completion of the high school course. It is an advanced supplementary reader for senior pupils and teachers. For knowledge of the war a book like Nelson Fraser's "The World at War" (Oxford University Press) is of value.

D.—In Lower Primary Schools and in the corresponding classes of High, Middle and Upper Primary Schools in this Presidency lessons on Hygiene should be entirely oral. These lessons should take the form of talks on the following or similar topics :—

(a) The necessity for personal cleanliness.
(b) The necessity for keeping rooms clean.
(c) The necessity for pure water, fresh air, sunlight and ventilation, the danger of shutting up sleeping-rooms.
(d) The danger of insanitary and dirty habits such as spitting.
(e) The necessity of exercise.
(f) Some information as to how simple complaints, wounds, snake-bite, burns, etc., should be treated; how a drowning person should be handled, etc.

The teaching must proceed not merely by precept but by example. The first essential then is that the teacher himself should be a man of healthy and clean habits; the second that the school should be well ventilated and scrupulously clean; the teacher should also insist that every child who comes to school must be clean and tidy.

Geography.

For use in the upper classes of High Schools in Bengal.

The teaching of this subject, by whatever method is adopted, must in every case be supplemented by the use of maps, charts and pictures. Teachers should consult the "Teachers' List" and apply to leading publishers for their lists, as these are now comprehensive and specially adapted to the needs of Indian schools. Such pictures as "Scenes from other lands" (Macmillan) are suitable for school work, are interesting to children and bring brightness and colour to the class room. Head masters are requested to see that all the school maps and pictures are on view every day and not stored in office rooms.
